

ANNEX TO ENGLISH AVENUE SCHOOL IS FAVORABLE TO MAYOR

Thinks $10,000 Building Is the Best Solution to the Present Crowded Condition in That District.

MAY URGE THIS ACTION WHEN BOARD MEETS

Mayor and Alderman Van Dyke Take Exception to Recent Statements Attributed to Them.

A new building costing approximately $10,000, to be erected on the same site of the English avenue school, in the fifth ward, will relieve the crowded conditions in that district, according to Mayor James C. Woodward.

Following his inspection of that building, Mayor Woodward declared that an annex to accommodate at least four grades would be a solution. He did not state whether or not he would urge the new building when the school board meets next Monday to discuss the condition of the school and indicated plainly that he was in favor of such an improvement.

"I found that the lower grades of the school are and have been crowded for some time," he said. "This is due to a peculiar condition in that district, but the children who attend the school come largely from the mill districts. They attend school until they reach the fourth grade and then go to go to work for their parents. I don't figure it will be difficult to take care of the children for the next four or five years."

Mayor Woodward took exception to the publication of statements attributed to him bearing on the subject of conditions at the English avenue school. He said that the old annex was turned over to the city by the county when the district was taken in by the city. He criticized only the location of the school for the last four or five years.

Alderman Arthur S. Dyke, chairman of the school committee of council, denied having said in council that the annex was turned over to the city by the county when the district was taken in by the city. He criticized only the location of the school for the last four or five years.

Other members of council who are reported to have resolutions asking for a probe, say that they will not take the initiative.

Club Women Active.

Regardless of what council does, the Federation of Women's Clubs, which is organized for the purpose of having an active interest in the Constitution of the city, is active in the city.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the federation, stated yesterday that she is organizing the federation in the city. Mrs. Haden said that the federation will represent the city in the city. She said that the federation will represent the city in the city.

Speaking of the part the committee will play in the city, she said:

"They are a small part, maybe, in the municipal government, but they are already doing a great deal for the schools of Atlanta. Through their literature and reports relative to many every day matters in the city, they have been acquired, and with other valuable information on the same subjects, are on file in the office of the Board of Education."

"The fact of this amount of information being at hand will lessen the burden of the lookout committee, who in order to make their report on conditions in our schools will be added to the comparisons which they can make with conditions in other schools."

Comments Work.

"I may say further in reference to this one municipal commission which the Atlanta women may call their own representation in the city government, that the women comprising it have for many years seen the coming of the congestion in many of the school districts; the reports they have made to the board of education have made to the board of education relative to the schools."

"I have had many assurances from Atlanta women in every ward of the city of their willingness to help in the work of making for school betterment," said Mrs. Haden in conclusion.

As you remember, a meeting called last Monday, though called by the federation, invited to be present every woman in the city, whether a member of this particular organization or not."

WHAT IS THE TANGO? QUESTION AT CHICAGO

Chicago, October 16.—Every movement of the dancers in cafes and theaters of Chicago where the tango is danced will be closely watched by a committee of the city council, appointed last night by Mayor Harrison to probe suggestions for the framing of a "tango ordinance."

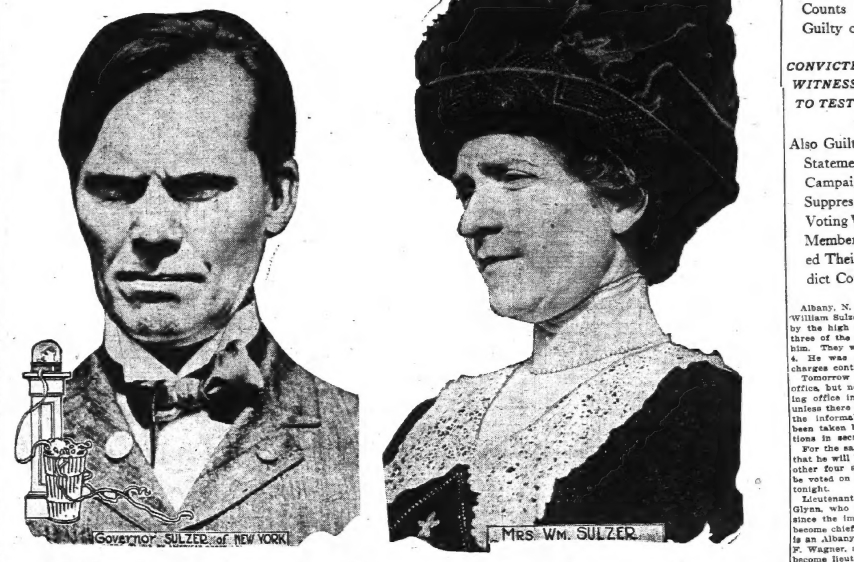

"What is the tango and when is it danced?" was the question asked to be decided by the committee. Mayor Harrison made the appointments upon the order of the city council.

Burlington, Vt., October 16.—The tango and all other dances were prohibited under a ban at the University of Vermont by vote of the board of trustees last night. The council is a representative body of the trustees of the college and all other dances are referred to the faculty.

DAY OF DOOM HAS DAWNED FOR GOVERNOR WILLIAM SULZER. HE WILL BE REMOVED FROM OFFICE BUT NOT DISAPPOINTED

Gov. Sulzer and His Wife Who Tried to Save Him

The high court of impeachment began voting yesterday afternoon on the charges against Governor Sulzer. Four articles were on one. The court adjourned late in the afternoon until today, when the voting will be resumed.

T. Cuyler Asks Half Million for Wife's Affections

Atlanta Man Sues Mrs. Isabella T. Barton in Chicago Courts—Divorce Suit Filed by Wife.

Chicago, October 16.—(Special)—A mysterious suit for $500,000 was filed late this afternoon in the superior court, in which the name of Talmadge Cuyler appears as plaintiff against Isabella T. Barton. Only the practice of the suit is on file and Attorney John M. Rankin and Frank D. Fulton, who are counsel for the plaintiff, refused to discuss the suit until service is obtained upon the defendant.

At the office of Sheriff Michael Zimmer it was reported that the suit was for alienation of affections and that an attempt would be made to obtain service on the defendant at one of the railroad stations, as she was in Chicago on her way from New York to San Francisco.

The summons in the suit was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff John A. O'Leary and he started out in the evening in the hope of serving the defendant at some railroad station.

Cuyler Out of Town.

Efforts to locate Mr. Cuyler at his apartment in the Aragon hotel last night proved unsuccessful. It was stated from the rooms of his mother, Mrs. M. H. Smith, that Cuyler was out of the city.

Mrs. Smith was operated upon recently at St. Joseph's infirmary and is now convalescing. Owing to her illness she refused to discuss her son's affairs in any way.

According to information from California, published recently in Atlanta papers, Mrs. Talmadge Cuyler had brought suit for divorce against her husband. Cuyler admitted this when questioned by newspaper men in regard to the affair. Later it was published that the divorce had been granted, but in this matter the Atlanta was non-committal.

TRAIN HITS WAGON CARRYING PARTY HOME FROM FAIR

Two Persons Killed, Two Fatally Injured and Others Severely Hurt in Accident Near Dalton.

Dalton, Ga., October 16.—(Special)—While returning from the county fair being held in Dalton, the wagon containing Benjamin, his wife, Roba, Benjamin, his children, Lula, Willie, Guy, Oscar, Garner and Paul, and Mary, were struck by the south-bound Western and Atlantic railroad train at the town of Tunnel Hill this afternoon, completely demolishing the wagon and killing Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin and severely injuring the others.

The accident occurred at the public road crossing in Tunnel Hill just north of the depot and was witnessed by a number of people.

The dead are being prepared for burial at Tunnel Hill and the injured were rushed to Dalton, being brought here in the train that had just wrought death and injury to the occupants of the wagon. They are receiving every attention and are being cared for in different homes here.

This occurrence revives the memory of the Calhoun wreck which occurred about one year ago north of here when the hospital home of that place was thrown open by the wreck.

The officers of the physicians were today besieged by persons tendering their services and the use of their homes for the care of the injured, all of which emphasize the great need of a public hospital here.

It is said that the train was traveling at an excessive rate of speed and some of the injured state that they were wholly unaware of the approach of the train until too late to avoid it.

The ages of the dead and injured vary from three years to adults.

SUMMERVILLE MAN SLAIN IN QUARREL OVER POKER GAME

Summersville, Ga., October 16.—(Special)—As the result of a quarrel over the game of poker, a man was slain in jail here charged with the murder of Marion Odum in dead. It is alleged that Odum was killed by a blow from a brick, the entire lodge being in Odum's side. He was hurried to the Erlanger hospital at Chattanooga, but died after reaching there.

According to reports the two men were participants in a poker game and Smith lost a considerable sum of money. He demanded a police man and Odum, and when the latter refused to grant his demand it is said that Smith went home, secured his shotgun and fired the fatal shot. It is said that both men had been drinking. They were taken to the hospital and Smith was pronounced dead.

Fulton County Cops Meet Their Waterloo In Town of Roswell

Blacksmith Mayor Brings the Court to Order by Pound His Anvil—Officers Are Fined.

Lieutenant W. H. Cheshire and R. R. Haynes, members of Fulton county's motorcycle squad, who have brought Mayor C. C. Smith to the bar of justice, had the tables turned on them yesterday in the bustling little city of Roswell, which is in Cobb county.

The officers were in the far and of Fulton county when something went wrong with one of the machines. Roswell was nearer than Atlanta, or even Buckhead, and unexpectedly they motored into that city. They will have to do so again.

There's lots of cotton in Cobb county, and the officers, finding their way blocked by cotton wagons, rolled into a path and approached a blacksmith shop to make inquiries. The blacksmith halted them in the name of Cobb county and carried them against into his shop.

A minute later Mayor C. C. Smith brought his mighty steel hammer down upon his anvil and announced: "Court will come to order!"

Blacksmith Was Loud Mayor.

The officers had hardly replied that the smithy who acted them was deputy marshal of the upper ward, as that section of the progressive city is known in local parlance, and that the other man in the shop was the lord mayor.

Explanations were of no avail. The two men had been seen riding on Roswell sidewalks and so, perhaps, they must be fined. According to the officers, the particular spot looked more like a garden of weeds than a sidewalk, but that did not aid them any.

"One dollar and costs each," announced the mayor, and again the mighty anvil resounded to the hammer as "Court is adjourned" was announced.

NEW YORK WOMAN ROCKS PARIS CHURCH WINDOWS

Paris, October 16.—Bricks recently were thrown through a beautiful stained glass window of the American Protestant Episcopal church here by a woman who was thrown through a dining room window at New York, and was arrested today before the French magistrate that she had broken the window. She said she was a suffragette, but added that she had thrown the brick at the church because she was tired of the suffragettes.

She was taken to the police station and is being held in custody.

FRIENDS OF MOYER REPUDIATE CHARGES OF BAD TREATMENT

Atlanta Men Declare Warden Will Come Out of Investigation With Flying Colors. Bram Praises Conditions.

The sensational charges of inhuman treatment of prisoners at the Atlanta penitentiary, made by Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton, who were released from the prison Wednesday, have not only interested the government, but have stirred up a storm of indignation among people who are not inclined to believe the charges made by the two released prisoners.

The friends of Warden Moyer have stood to his support with statements of praise for the manner in which he has conducted the institution and revelations of excellent conditions there as they have observed them.

Warden Moyer, who is in Indianapolis, when he heard of the charges, wired the federal authorities and asked a thorough investigation.

As a result, Warden Moyer has been asked to make a report of conditions, and in a short time it is expected that a disinterested investigator will be appointed to conduct an examination into the local penitentiary affairs.

Moyer Courts Investigation.

Warden Moyer displays no uneasiness as to the outcome of such an investigation, but, on the contrary, courts the investigation.

"My answer to the charges," he says, "is, come and see."

Not only is the warden receiving support from his friends in Atlanta, but he is receiving similar support in Washington.

One dispatch said:

"The attorney general has been advised that there is no such thing as a disinterested investigator for the character described by Hawthorne and Morton in their report upon the institution, that physical tortures of the prisoners are described absolutely and that the warden is in an institution at Atlanta are put in an isolation ward that is ample in space, light and sanitary in every way."

Wardens Moyer's Policy

Although Warden Moyer is out of the city and could not be seen personally by the attorney general, his policy in regard to the charges brought against him in management of the federal prison, the following extract from an address on "Prison Reform," recently made by the warden, may serve to give some idea of his views on the food of the prisoners.

"I am a firm believer in the wisdom of an attorney general who is willing to admit that it is wise to deprive the prisoners of a sufficient amount of food and clothing. It is the duty of the warden to see that the prisoners are kept in a state of starvation and nakedness."

WOODROW WILSON WASHES HIS HANDS OF HUERA A REGIME

President Indicates That He Is Irrevocably Determined to Deal No Longer With the Mexican Dictator.

STEPS TOWARD PEACE ARE BEING CONSIDERED

Believed Belligerency of Huerta's Enemies Will Be Recognized—Show of Force Likely if the Situation Gets Worse.

Washington, October 16.—President Wilson indicated today to those who discussed the Mexican situation with him that he was irrevocably determined to deal no longer with the Huerta regime, but that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico were being considered. No move is expected to be made by the president at the date set for the Mexican election.

President Wilson's statement was made in a conversation with a group of men who were present at the White House. The president said that he was not yet a matter of speculation among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is undoubtedly toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists.

Members of the United States have been to make complete the record of having attempted to bring the peace problem by peaceful means. Up to the present, the United States has been in the hands of the Huerta authorities, who have rejected the good offices of the United States. The president said that he was brought to bear upon the president and Secretary Bryan to give the constitutionalists an opportunity to compose the situation through the support of this country.

May Recognize Peace of Huerta.

Reports that the president was preparing to recognize the belligerency of the constitutionalists are based chiefly upon the friendly disposition toward Huerta's enemies, but for the fact that Secretary Bryan has been carrying on negotiations with Huerta's enemies. The president said that he was not yet a matter of speculation among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is undoubtedly toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists.

Such action might not be formal recognition, but it is pointed out by the president's friends that it would be a recognition of the fact that the constitutionalists are in a position to elect their executive of the state of Coahuila. The president said that he was not yet a matter of speculation among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is undoubtedly toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists.

The Washington government would welcome the elimination of Huerta, and if this can be accomplished by lifting the embargo on arms or giving the constitutionalists the moral support of this country, many officials here favor such a policy.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, today laid formal protest with the state department against the federal general. Many journals across Texas from El Paso to Laredo. He charged that similar policies recently were denied to generals of the constitutionalists.

How the Judges Divided.

Presiding Judge J. M. Cullen, who will shortly retire from the bench, rendered a long opinion in support of his vote. The other eight judges of the court of appeals were divided. One voted 1 and 2, Judges William H. Barker, Emerson A. Chase and William H. Werner voted for the governor and against him. Judge J. M. Cullen, John H. Rogers, Frank H. Hancock and Nathan L. Miller, making a division among them of five to four against the governor.

Not guilty to "guilty," and Judge Cullen and Miller changed from "guilty" to "not guilty," making against him a division of six to three. Presiding Judge Cullen and three other judges voted in favor of the governor. The other five judges voted against him.

Practically every member of the court explained his vote on article 1, although those who voted in favor of the governor did not enter at length into a discussion of the merits of the case or of the matters of law and precedent. The court's decision was a surprise to many of the lawyers who were present.

One of the judges, Nathan A. Miller, said that he was not yet a matter of speculation among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is undoubtedly toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists.

DORSEY TO BE READY BY NEXT WEDNESDAY

The proposed conference between Senator General Hugh M. Dorsey and Attorney Leonard Hays, representing the defense of Leo M. Frank, will be held at the home of Mr. Frank, at 1000 Peachtree street, tomorrow.

It is understood that the defense has practically agreed not to protest to the prosecution from the courtroom.

Senator Dorsey stated when he arrived from Valdosta, Ga., that he was not going to the trial.

The two attorneys are expected to meet today. There are a number of points to be gone over, and it is expected that the defense will be ready to go to the trial by next Wednesday.

It is believed that the defense will come up with the case, and the effort they did not make in the case of the trial.

The question as to whether or not the defense will be ready to go to the trial is one which has been made a matter of public interest.

Several of the jurors who have made statements of opinion have declared that they were not going to the trial, and that they did not know what the case was about.

COCHRAN'S LIFE SAVED BY BRIDE'S HEROISM

Drags Her Unconscious Husband From Burning House Just as Roof Falls In.

Mrs. H. W. Cochran, a bride of two months, proved herself a heroine Thursday night when, at the risk of her life, she saved her husband from the flames which completely destroyed their new bungalow at 250 West Tenth street, shortly before midnight.

Mrs. Cochran was roused from sleep when a large section of the roof fell in striking the ceiling over the room in which she slept. She arose to find the room filled with smoke and flames rapidly licking their way under the door.

Calling to her husband across the hall and getting no response, Mrs. Cochran wrapped a heavy dressing gown about her and dashed over to her husband's room. He was lying on the floor, unconscious, and a large burning raft had fallen on him, pinning him and igniting his clothing.

Mrs. Cochran, who was alone in the room, bravely blazed her hands, and dragged her husband from the front door into the arms of a neighbor who by this time were aroused. It was not until she had dragged her husband out of the house that she was able to escape.

Mrs. Cochran sustained painful though not serious wounds from the fire, while Mrs. Cochran's husband is in a serious condition.

Mrs. and Mr. Cochran were married only two months ago, and the bungalow was totally destroyed, with a loss of $4,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

AT THE KNOX AGENCIES

In making Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits each garment is made separately, fashioned to exact shape and size while being knit. This is so unusual in knit underwear that it deserves special notice.

The rule is to knit the material by the yard; a dozen thicknesses cut at a time; the seams lapped and sewed like any other garment; it makes a bulky, rough, hard seam.

In Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits there are few seams; all salvage edges; you'll hardly know there are seams at all. The Swiss rib knitting makes perfect fitting.

Your haberdasher will be glad to show you Vassar.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN THE HAUG CASE

Detective's Statement Convinces Coroner's Jury That Knoxville Girl Came to Her Death by Own Hand.

Thomasville, Ga., October 16.—(Special.)—What appeared at first to be a mysterious, diabolical murder without any apparent motive has dwindled into a suicide, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury. The jury investigating the death of Miss Dorothy Haug came to that conclusion at 1:30 o'clock, after hearing a short statement from Detective Peace, who has had charge of the case since yesterday morning.

Peace established the fact this morning in his statement that the girl had purchased the gun from a dealer in that city and had threatened then to commit suicide, causing her room-mate to leave the house. She was heard to say that she was determined to end it all that way. He found that the bullet found in the head was a thirty-two caliber, the same as that which was missing from the girl's gun. She brought the gun to Thomasville with her the day before the tragic morning.

This report and the statement that the opinion of the detective, after investigating various phases of the case, was suicide brought an immediate verdict from the jury to that effect. The result was not unexpected in view of the developments of yesterday.

The case was handled by the police from the start on a theory of murder and nothing else, induced by the positive testimony of Dr. McIntosh that nothing but a blunt instrument could have inflicted that sort of a wound. Dr. McIntosh, at the instance of the jury on the first day, made an examination of the head, but found the wound on the back of the head, but naturally concluded, without a complete examination, that it was done with something other than a pistol and by some one with an unusually strong arm.

The murder theory has proven embarrassing to the light of later events when a total examination of the skull revealed the evidence by the local authorities was perfectly correct, according to the opinion of the detective, but that the jury should have established beyond all possible question that it was done with something other than a pistol and by some one with an unusually strong arm.

They then separate after which the lady advances her partner thirteen times on the floor. He flaps his ears and brays at the lady. The lady then throws her arms back and kisses him on the end of the neck."

"I had a little grandson named Alexander staying here with me last year, and I took him to school hoping he'd learn to read and write and catch flies with his hands. Alexander's father is a butcher, and when he grows up it is a dead certainty that he will be conducting a meat market. All his cousins are butchers too. All his uncles own bears for a thousand years back have been in the business of selling fresh and salted hams, and all his nephews are time making pictures of trees and elephants and I never could distinguish the trees from the elephants, which humiliated him as much as for he's a sensitive boy, and at that time was wedded to his art."

"That boy went to school here for several months, and learned to make pictures, to recite 'Twinkle, twinkle, little star,' a lot of other things, but not one thing would be useful to a butcher."

High Cost of Children.
(From The Boston Globe.)

Interesting facts about the rearing of children were revealed in the last annual report of the Chicago Nursery and Half-Orphan Asylum.

From 1874 to 1883 the expense of maintaining one child for a year was $79.91; in the period from 1884 to 1892 it was $100.00.

and will in the next few years produce the apples to supply the market in the southern and middle portions of the country. "In fact as cheaply as they can anywhere," he says, "I believe they can be grown more cheaply than in any other section of the State or in Oregon, because of the high priced land in those sections. Then another reason is that this section will be the one to supply the market in the south and middle portions of the State, and the saving of freight. Opportunity is ours."

ment is based on personal experience. I have seen the measure of the apple orchards in many of the best apple districts in western New York, which section is considered to be the best in the world. I have been able to be clearly understood that I do not mean for this to sound pessimistic in regard to the quality of the apples raised in this section to prevent only the raw side of a possibility of this kind. But, how many cotton farmers are there who raise cotton? I think it must be remembered that this is a high old gin. This statement is based on experience and is made without fear of successful competition.

It is true, of course, that the soil of north-central Georgia is not in as high a state of cultivation as the soil of the southern and western New York, but it is absolutely capable of being brought into as high cultivation as is this soil.

Just recently I made an extensive trip through the eastern part of Indiana and northern Georgia, making a special study of the soil and the methods of cultivation. I at a box of this fruit one would imagine that it was something good, but because the box was so small and because this beautiful label gave it an appearance of being a very valuable thing, the labels, the owner stated to me, cost him a bit of money, but he said that he would not mind paying for them, as he would get them out, as he was firmly convinced that very often one of the labels would add twenty cents to the price obtained for the box of apples.

Law-Cheshire Wedding Beautiful Home Ceremony

A beautiful wedding last night, centering a cordial social interest, was that of Miss White Russell Law and Mr. Thaddeus J. Cheshire, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Law, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

A picturesque elaboration appropriate to the home ceremonial distinguished the occasion, and several hundred guests were entertained after the ceremony at a handsome reception.

Mrs. Byron H. King was her sister's maid of honor, Mr. Byron Grant was best man, and small attendants were Fred Law and Byron King, Jr. William Edmund King and Frances Law, Mr. A. H. Gordon was the minister officiating.

The bride entered the drawing room in a lovely picture in her wedding gown of ivory lace and tulle, and the bridegroom was in a suit of blue cloth with a white waistcoat and a white bow tie.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. H. Gordon, who was assisted by Mr. J. H. Gordon, who was the officiating minister.

The bride and groom were seated at a table in the center of the room, and the ceremony was performed in a most beautiful manner.

COTTON ADVANCED

30 TO 40 POINTS

Settlement of Lancashire Labor Troubles and Rains in Southwest Caused Advance. Market Exerted an Active.

New York, October 16.—After a nervously quiet day, the cotton market advanced sharply today and closed firm at a net advance of 30 to 40 points. There was enough covering to suggest that the market was not overdone, but the advance was not without cause. The settlement of the Lancashire labor troubles, which had been expected to cause a decline in the market, had been averted. The market was also helped by the fact that the weather in the Southwest was favorable for the crop. The market was active and the advance was well sustained.
